Is the result of a fire which broke out at the Pullman lodging house. The dead: Oam Mix, waiter, Missoula, Mont.; Ole Berg, carpenter, Butte. Severely injured: Billy Ryan, better known as "Australian" Ryan, a pugilist; a Mr. Camp; Miss Crystal, proprietress of the lodging house. A number of men were experimenting with a gasoline lamp in a saloon on the lower floor of the lodging house when the lamp exploded, scattering flames in all directions. The building was wooden and before the fire department arrived the flames had eaten through the lower floor and were spreading to the upper stories. The lodging house contained about 100 guests, none of whom were able to save anything except what they wore. Most of them escaped by jumping from the first and third story windows and it is miraculous that more were not killed. QUARTERLY REPORT OF THE MITCHELL, FINCH & CO.'S BANK, At the Close of Business on the 29th Day of June, 1901. ORANGEBURG, July 2nd.—Did you ever notice it's warmer in summer than in winter, and you don't want to light your pipe with a splinter? Thomas Beckett and wife are rejoicing over the arrival of a bouncing baby boy. Grant Wilson is getting along pretty well, thank ye. His accidentally received knife wound is about well. Al. Coryell began harvesting his rye Monday. It is a good crop, but part of it has fallen. Some thoughtless fellow pushed "Bing" Cooper into North Fork during a recent high water, and he had great difficulty in getting out. Such a trick played on a man with a dislocated wrist doesn't savor a little bit of common sense, or humanity. Miss Keith Ross, the belle of the "burg," and Mr. Scott Young were united in the silken bonds of wedlock Wednesday, June 24th, at 5:15 p. m., at Rev. Harrop's in Maysville. The wedding supper was partaken of by friends and relatives at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Lucy Seddon. The happy couple are the guests pro tem of Mrs. Ross, who is a notable exception in the way of a mother-in-law, being friendly, forbearing and full of fun and frolic. The Oranburg boys did not forget to give them a send-off in the way of a charavari. Here's their good health! May they live long and prosper. "The harvest is plentiful and the laborers are few." So saith holy writ. Charles Calvert, recognizing the gravity of the situation, will bring his engine to the fore, and rip and tear and roar, 'till there ain't a dodgast stalk of wheat, rye, oats or grass left standing in Mason County. A man can smoke and swear like sin, Or billiards and pin-pool play; But he can't stick his hat on his head with a pin, Because he ain't built that way. Some of the boys, through thoughtlessness, it is hoped, are eager to see a harmless, industrious neighbor, who was crippled by accident or disease, paraded in print in a ludicrous manner. This is not right. Make it a rule of life never to twit anyone about anything they cannot avoid. To be crippled for life is bad enough, surely; to make much merriment or little on such a subject is in exceedingly bad taste, inhuman, in fact. The American Illustrated Pronouncing Dictionary gives the definition of "rubber" as "one who rubs; a game at cards." Modern slang has made the title a synonym for busy bodies, who, through a combination of ignorance and impudence, persist in poking their noses into other people's business. Many ill-bred folks will stand and overlook any one writing when they have no earthly interest in the matter, and are not cognizant of the fact that it is the height of ill manners so to do. Children of a tender age have this by-word at their tongue's end and do not hesitate to use it on a comrade whose inquiring turn of mind projects too far into other people's business. It is a word that will be used as long as "rubber necks" probe into affairs that concern them. Win. Hord, son of our popular physician, has made arrangements to spend his Fourth of July with friends in Paris. Boone Phillips, hostler for Dr. Hord, still has the army bee buzzing in his bonnet. English sparrows have greatly damaged store chimneys in Oranburg, so much so as to necessitate repairs to keep them from falling down. They also carry great masses of grass and straw into crevices of the weather boarding, rendering the house more liable to be destroyed by fire. They are an intolerable nuisance wherever they are and should be destroyed by every means possible. A. Erkenbrecker, proprietor of the St. Bernard Starch Works, Cincinnati, was the man who first brought a cage full of them from banks of Yarrow, England. He told the writer that after he had set them free in his grounds near the factory they stole so great a quantity of the starch that he was drying on frames in the dry rooms that he was compelled to put in several hundred screen windows. Saturday last Tollesboro met Oranburg in a shooting contest on the southern heights of the "burg" with the following result: TOLLESBORO. Thoroughman.....7 Wm. Carmel. Miss Fannie Scott, of Tilton, is here visiting friends and relatives. Mrs. Martha Sellers is home after a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Eva Pell, of Maysville. Mabel Pollitt, who has been very ill, is convalescent. Miss Julia Lathan, of Chicago, is visiting her parents at Bridgeport. There was a severe wind and rain storm here Monday evening. A. D. Dickson and wife were in our neighborhood Sunday evening. R. T. Bradley and Miss Bessie Dickson were married at Maysville at 9:30 a. m. Monday at the Central Hotel by Rev. Edward Allen, of that place. Parker Hoffman, Albert Pollitt, Clark Bradley and Bernice Dickson were present at the marriage ceremony. The couple will spend two weeks at Garrison, Lewis County, and then make their home at Vanceburg. EAST LIMESTONE, July 2.—Mrs. John Seers, of Maysville, and Mrs. Canada, of Nicholas County, are guests of Mrs. Weeds Breeze to-day. Miss Jennie Rains and brother, Clarence, and Mrs. Robert H. Williams and Mrs. Wm. Williams were at the bedside of Miss Anna Meyer, of Retorville, Sunday. She is gradually growing weaker. N. S. Swice, noticing his valuable watch dog exhibiting signs of hydrophobia, took the dog by the back of the head while another hit the animal in the head with a hammer. Why not dispose of the canine population entirely? Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kidder and children, of Huston avenue, are enjoying an outing during the torrid temperature at the pleasant home of Mrs. Margaret Williams, the latter's mother. The ladies of the Stone Lick congregation gave an ice cream supper at the Oranburg school house Saturday evening. A terrific wind storm from the South passed
